Join local business leaders to discuss what you want to see happen in arts and culture in Coronado over the next ten years. Your input will directly inform the City's first Cultural Plan that will guide the City and Commission in selecting priorities for investment.

Arts and Culture are economic generators! Planning is critical to success and Cultural Planning offers an opportunity to create a road-map unique to our community's needs, aspirations and strengths. By planning strategically, we can work together to integrate arts and culture more fully into our community and benefit residents, businesses and visitors alike.
